

WE WALK FOR THE SACRED WATER WHERE OUR WILD RICE GROWS

The Menominee people reseeded wild rice at the mouth of the Menominee River this past fall. Two weeks later, the Back Forty Mine applied for a mining permit upstream from this sacred place. We oppose this mine, because it threatens our water, soil, animals, birds, fish and all living things in and around this water, including our new wild rice beds. We encourage all people who oppose this mine to join us in a prayerful, peaceful water walk to raise awareness and stand up for this water.

Josephine Mandamin, Anishinaabe Grandmother who is known as "the original water walker," will join Spiritual Leaders, Tribal Leaders and Tribal Members in leading this important walk. We invite all who love the water and oppose this mine to come walk with us!

MENOMINEE RIVER WATER WALK APRIL 23-24, 2016
